

A photograph of a long, straight path in a forest, lined with tall, thin trees. The path is covered in fallen leaves and is illuminated by a bright, hazy light source at the far end, creating a strong lens flare effect. A small figure of a person is visible walking away from the viewer towards the light. The overall atmosphere is serene and ethereal.

Herr, nun lässt du deinen Diener
in Frieden fahren Lk 2,29